West Michigan Rivers-Fishing Report

May 16th, 2010

steelhead, trout, pike and carp... it's all good

Pere Marquette

Water Conditions - perfect

>>>We finally got some needed rain and the trout fishing has been good. There was lots of bug activity when the weather was warm but the last week has been cold, wet and windy. Lots of baby fish around, alevin and fry patterns have been producing. Kevin Morlock

Big Manistee

Water Conditions - average and clear

>>>The trout fishing in the upper Manistee has been good with hatches of sulphurs and other bugs on warm days. Like anywhere, switch to streamers when the weather is cooler.

Muskegon

Water Conditions - low and clear

>>>Nice hatches on the warm days with lots of action, though the bulk of the action will be small planters. Alevin and fry patterns have produced well fished behind a larger streamer. Phil Cusey

Open Waters >>> Stripping big streamers has been hot at the river mouths for pike, walleye and you always have a shot at something big, fast and silver.

Alevin Martinez and other alevin/fry patterns have been top producers.
